步骤二 无忧听写练习（参考答案见章末）

不看下文，听录音，按照录音中的要求，把你听到的内容写到空白练习纸上。

In today's class, we'll discuss Toni Morrison's novel Beloved. As I'm sure you all know, Morrison is both a popular and highly respected author and it's not easy to be both. Born in 1931, Morrison has written some of the most touching and intelligent works on the African-American experience ever written by anyone. And yet to call her an African-American writer doesn't seem to do her justice. In many ways, she's simply an American writer and certainly one of the best. Beloved is a truly remarkable work. It was recommended for nearly every nature literary class, including the National Book Award and the National Book Critics Circle Award, and it in fact won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction in 1988. Morrison herself is distinguished for having won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1993. What makes Beloved unique is the skillful sure way in which Morrison blends intensely personal storytelling and American history, racial themes and gender themes, the experience of blacks with the experience of all people everywhere, the down-to-earth reality of slavery with the sense of mysterious spirituality.

We will be paying special attention to these themes as we discuss this work and I'm particularly interested in your views on the relative importance of grace and gender in this book. Is it more important that Sethe, the main character, is black, or that she a woman? Which contributes more to her being? What does Morrison tell us about both?

人生真谛

现代自然科学和社会科学飞速发展，知识浩如烟海，而人的精力是有限的，要想把握一切知识，做到样样都精通，实在是不太可能。钉子有两个长处：一个是“挤”劲，一个是“钻”劲。我们在学习上，也要提倡这种“钉子”精神，善于挤和钻。我们应该充分发挥自己的潜力，发现自己的特点和专长，找到最适合自己的位置，集中精力在某一领域中有所建树。
