不看下文，听录音，按照录音中的要求，把你听到的内容写到空白练习纸上。

According to a survey on reading conducted in 2001 by the U.S. National Education Association (NEA), young Americans say reading is important, more important than computers and science. Over 50% of the 12 to 18 years old interviewed say they enjoy reading a lot. 79% find it stimulating and interesting. And 87% think it is relaxing. About 68% of those surveyed disagreed with the opinion that reading is boring or old-fashioned.

Over half teenagers interviewed said they read more than ten books a year. The results also show that middle school students read more books than high schoolers. Over 66% of teens like to read fiction, such as novels and stories. Over 26% are interested in non-fiction, such history books. 64% of students listed reading stories about people of their own ages. That's a favorite topic. Mysteries and detective stories come second on the list at 53%. Just under 50% said they were interested in reading about their own culture in tradition. Of the teenagers who participated in the survey, 49% said that libraries are where they get most of their books. However, many complain that their school libraries do not have enough up-to-date interesting books and magazines. Even though many teenagers in the US enjoy reading, they still have other interests. When asked which activity would be the most difficult to give up for a week, 48% said listening to music. TV would be difficult to give up for 25% of those surveyed.

人生真谛

闲适不是一种空虚状态，也不是一段假期。闲适是工作与娱乐的合二为一。闲适，就像工作一样，是一种活动状态，但这种活动是一种心灵活动，是一种心智的“修养”，心灵为其自身而乐此不疲。当工作和学习的压力充斥着身体时，我们要学会放松自己，只有精力、体力都达到最佳状态时，我们才能更好地投入到工作当中，才能把自己的聪明才智充分发挥出来。
